Directors of Russian Projects, Alex and Helena Bogat, have been hard at work on 26th lesson series, The Prophetic Wisdom of Hosea. This requires script editing, recording audio, synchronizing video, and translating subtitles and Lesson Guides. In addition, the Bogats are translating and subtitling Faculty Forums that are supplemental lessons for each series, creating social media posts for the Thirdmill Facebook page in Russian, developing the Russian online classroom, and working with Learning Community Leaders. These leaders have said the lesson series have improved their understanding of theology, prepared them for preaching, and re-ignited their desire to learn.

We Believe in the Holy Spirit was a popular course for both longtime church members and new believers. Future leaders from a youth group studied Thirdmill at a Baptist church near Odessa, Ukraine.

We have received a lot of encouraging news from the Russian-speaking world since the beginning of the year. You can see our Russian curriculum at: r.thirdmill.org

For anyone interested in Russian language courses, check the site above to find 25 Thirdmill lesson series now available on video and audio with written manuscripts and lesson guides.
Central Asia where they experienced a cross-cultural training program, learned about the work in the area, encouraged the leaders, and prayed for the nationals. The local and expat workers are establishing learning communities to train leaders and are partnering with Thirdmill to provide the content of the training.

Throughout Central Asia, the growing Russian classroom is not just virtual! Men and women are learning online and meeting to discuss practical application and how to shepherd those they mentor from all ages, stages and walks of life. To learn more about Central Asia, consider a visit to teach a skill or facilitate a course. If you would like to join a cross-cultural vision trip (location to be determined), write Jamison at jgriffin@thirdmill.org.

One of Thirdmill’s Regional Development Directors, Jamison Griffin, and a team of 10 visited in Central Asia, Thirdmill’s Jamison Griffin and Anthony English of Mission to the World stand inside the sanctuary of a Lutheran church completed in 1899.

In another city in Central Asia, 70 expat workers from eight countries met for an annual conference for refreshment, report and engaging new ideas in ministry. Dr. Greg Perry was invited to teach on “Spiritual Renewal.” The president of the country has called for cultural renewal and many are searching for meaning at this time in history.

Leadership training is always an important topic. Although Russian is the language of education, much work is being done there. One of Thirdmill’s and teaching in each region of the world.
