Notes

I. Introduction (0:20)

Salvation is a fully Trinitarian work:

- The Father planned our salvation.
- The Son accomplished our salvation through his perfect life, death, resurrection and ascension.
- The Holy Spirit applies the various elements of salvation to believers.

Soteriology – the doctrine of salvation

- historia salutis (history of salvation) – God’s saving events and actions that accomplish salvation for his people

- ordo salutis (order of salvation) – the logical and chronological order in which the Holy Spirit applies the various aspects of salvation to individual believers

II. Conversion (3:28)

Conversion – changing from one thing into another

A. Regenerating (4:44)

Regeneration – recreation or rebirth; the event in which a human being moves from a state of spiritual death into a state of spiritual life
We all enter the world in a state of spiritual death and remain spiritually dead unless and until the Holy Spirit regenerates us.

Adam was our representative before God, so we all share in his guilt and in the consequences of physical and spiritual death (Romans 5:12-19). Only Jesus avoided this curse (Hebrews 4:15, 7:26).

As a result of our spiritual corruption and death, human beings are morally incapable of pleasing God and desperately need salvation (Romans 8:6-8).

“All people are conceived in sin and are born children of wrath, unfit for any saving good, inclined to evil, dead in their sins, and slaves to sin; without the grace of the regenerating Holy Spirit they are neither willing nor able to return to God, to reform their distorted nature, or even to dispose themselves to such reform.”

– Canons of Dort, Third and Fourth Main Points of Doctrine

In regeneration, our souls pass from spiritual death into spiritual life (John 5:24; Ephesians 2:4, 5; Colossians 2:13).

Jesus described regeneration as “rebirth” in John 3:3-6.
When the Holy Spirit regenerates us, he gives life to our spirits and inclines us toward God.

Regeneration is a gracious and miraculous work of the Holy Spirit that overturns the normal workings of the natural world.

B. Convicting (13:08)

Conviction – awareness of the guilt and wrongness of our sin

Conviction is one of the Holy Spirit’s first works when he calls unbelievers to faith.

Repentance is necessary in order for people to be redeemed (Isaiah 59:20).

The Spirit’s convicting work doesn’t just prepare us to hear the gospel, but actually applies salvation to us. For example:

- When Peter preached the gospel at Pentecost, the Holy Spirit convicted many of their sin and thousands came to faith (Acts 2:37-41).

- When the Holy Spirit was poured out on Cornelius and his household, they received salvation (Acts 11:18).
1. Preponderance of sin (18:24)

   The Holy Spirit’s convicting work makes us aware of the preponderance of our sin.

2. Repulsiveness of sin (21:00)

   The Holy Spirit shows us that our sin is repugnant, detestable and sickening.

   Sin is so awful that it required the death of God’s only Son to save us from it.

   - Isaiah 64:6 – Even the works that the people of Israel thought were righteous were nothing but filthy rags.

   - Matthew 23:27 – Jesus rebuked the lawyers and Pharisees, comparing them to whitewashed tombs full of corpses and filth.

   - Romans 7:13 – Paul taught that sin’s repulsiveness can work toward our repentance and salvation.
3. Offensiveness of sin (24:09)

The Holy Spirit’s convicting work makes us aware that sin offends God’s holy character, violates his law, and deserves his wrath (Ezra 9:6; Isaiah 59:12; Jeremiah 14:7).

This aspect of conviction makes us realize our lost and condemned state.

4. Hopelessness of sin (25:45)

The Holy Spirit’s saving conviction shows us the hopelessness of sin.

Sin makes us incapable of pleasing God or of earning his blessings.

Our hopeless condition makes us completely dependent on God’s grace for forgiveness and salvation (Ephesians 2:8-9).

The Holy Spirit’s convicting work drives us to repentance, believing in faith that God will forgive our sins and receive us as his beloved children in Christ.
C. Justifying (28:04)

Justification – legal declaration acquitting a sinner from the guilt of his or her sin and crediting him or her with the righteousness of Christ.

Words related to the Greek verb dikaiōō (meaning “to justify”) regularly refer to God’s act of forgiving sinners and declaring them to be righteous.

Sinners are justified by means of faith, on the basis of Christ’s atoning sacrifice on our behalf (Romans 3:22-24).

The Holy Spirit applies the justifying benefits of Christ’s work to believers (1 Corinthians 6:11; Romans 14:17; Titus 3:5-7).

The “negative” and “positive” elements of justification:

- Negative – justification cancels, or negates, our guilt by forgiving our sins, so that we’re no longer subject to God’s condemnation (1 Corinthians 6:11; Titus 3:5).

- Positive – justification declares us to be righteous in God’s sight, so that we have a right to an eternal inheritance along with all its associated benefits (Ephesians 1:13-14).
D. Sanctifying (34:08)

Sanctification – the act of making people and things holy

The Spirit’s sanctifying work includes setting people and things apart for God’s use, purifying them, and making them fit to be near God’s unveiled glory.

Definitive sanctification – a one-time event wherein the Holy Spirit applies sanctification to us at conversion:

- The Holy Spirit sets us apart and purifies us by uniting us to the perfectly sanctified Christ, so that we too become sanctified:
  - John 17:19 – Jesus’ sanctification is necessary to ours because ours flows from his.
  - 1 Corinthians 1:30 – Christ is our holiness.

- Jesus becomes the source of our spiritual life and strength now, and our physical life later in the general resurrection:
  - John 15:1-5 – Jesus is the vine, and believers are the vine’s branches.
  - 1 Corinthians 6:15-17 – Our bodies are members of Christ himself, and we’re also one with him in spirit.
  - Ephesians 4:15, 16 – Christ is the head and believers are his body.

- We receive new life, we die to sin and sin’s mastery, and we gain the abilities to resist sin and to obey God.
  - Romans 7:5-6 – We die to sin and serve in the Spirit’s new way.
  - Romans 8:9 – The Holy Spirit remakes us so that we’re free to become more and more like Christ.
III. Christian Living (39:43)

Many aspects of the Spirit’s work continue throughout our lives as believers.

A. Indwelling (40:38)

Indwelling – the Holy Spirit’s special presence within, and spiritual union with, believers

When the Holy Spirit regenerates us, he takes up residence within us and gives life to our spirits (1 Corinthians 6:19; 2 Timothy 1:14; James 4:5; Romans 8:9-11).

Closely related to “indwelling” is what the New Testament calls the “filling” of the Holy Spirit.

All branches of the church can agree:

- The Holy Spirit always indwells true believers.
- His filling, or the level of his influence in our lives, varies.

The Scriptures never command us to be indwelt by God’s Spirit, but they do command us to be filled with the Holy Spirit (Ephesians 5:18).
Through the filling and indwelling of the Holy Spirit, believers are empowered to:

- perform works that God approves (Romans 8:5-9)
- worship rightly (John 4:24; Philippians 3:3)
- properly acknowledge and honor God’s persons, works and attributes

Indwelling believers has been part of the Holy Spirit’s task in every age.

The Holy Spirit’s indwelling presence grants believers insight into God’s revelation (1 Corinthians 2:12-16).

Two types of spiritual insight associated with Holy Spirit:

- Illumination – a divine gift of knowledge or understanding that is primarily cognitive
- Inward leading – a divine gift of knowledge or understanding that is primarily emotive or intuitive

B. Sanctifying (48:47)

Ongoing sanctification – sanctification that continues throughout our lives because our ongoing sin constantly requires forgiveness and cleansing.
The Holy Spirit doesn’t completely remove sin’s corruption and influence from our lives when he regenerates us (Romans 7:14-25; Galatians 5:17; 1 Peter 2:11).

Even though we continue to stumble because of sin, we also do good works because of the Spirit’s influence (Philippians 2:13).

The Holy Spirit continually applies forgiveness and cleansing to us when we sin and continually turns us away from sin and toward righteousness.

Throughout Scripture, the metaphor of fruit is often used to describe spiritual maturity (Matthew 3:8-10, 7:16-20; John 15:1-16; Galatians 5:17-25).

Paul taught that the only way to obey God from the heart and to manifest righteous characteristics, is to be indwelled by the Holy Spirit (Galatians 5; Romans 6–8).

The fruit of the Spirit is not the same as spiritual gifts:

- The Holy Spirit gives different gifts to each believer.
- The fruit of the Spirit is the obedient living the Spirit produces in all believers.
Progressive sanctification – process of progressing in holiness, becoming more and more godly throughout our Christian lives

Christians should progressively get more spiritually mature, but even true believers can fail to grow in this way (2 Peter 1:5-9).

C. Interceding (57:59)

Intercession – petitioning the Father on behalf of believers

When the Spirit searches the hearts of believers, it’s always for our benefit (Romans 8:26-27).

The Spirit always intercedes in accordance with God’s will and the Father always honors the prayers of the Spirit because the Spirit is God.

D. Preserving (1:01:55)

Preservation – the Holy Spirit’s continuous, gracious work of ensuring that believers persevere in faith until our salvation is complete
The Holy Spirit’s preserving work flows from his indwelling presence making our salvation secure, because he maintains saving faith within us (Romans 8:11-14; Philippians 1:6).

Scripture compares the Spirit’s preserving work to a legal seal, which authenticates and authorizes the object to which it was applied.

The Holy Spirit functions as God’s seal of ownership, demonstrating that those who possess the Spirit truly belong to God (Exodus 21:6; 2 Corinthians 1:22).

When we receive the Holy Spirit, we receive God’s promise that guarantees our final salvation and our inheritance — our glorification when Jesus returns (Ephesians 1:13-14).

Our glorification will be our final state, when we are completely free from sin, and we finally enter into the glorious blessings of the new heavens and new earth.
We can — and should — rest in the promise that the Spirit will be faithful to complete the work he began.

IV. Conclusion (1:10:32)
